McKEAN COUNTY MINER

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE $2.00 | SMETHPORT, PA. THURSDAY, APRIL 3, 1924. | VOL. LVIX | No. 14.

$2000 Reward Offered by Co. Comm.

The commissioners of McKean County, have offered a reward of $2000 for evidence which will lead to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who murdered Wm. J. McDougall, hermit, in his lonely hut at Lewis Run on the night of February 27th, 1924.

A number of clues to this murder one of the most fiendish in the annals of the county, have been found, but none thus far have resulted in locating the murderer.

McDougall who was a bee keeper was reputed to have money hidden in the house, and this probably led to his murder.

The assassins climbed to the roof of his shack and fired bullets through a hole near the chimney, at the man as he lay asleep. They then literally covered him with bricks which they hurled from the chimney.

After entering the house they fired a shot in his forehead to complete their terrible work. They then ransacked the house in search of the money, which, however was kept in the bank.

The offer of a reward by the commissioners, as above stated, will no doubt incite more to take part in aiding to bring the guilty party to justice.

Big Merger

KEYSTONE POWER CORPORATION.

Included in the huge power combine which will serve five states—generating equipment which has been linked together, rated at 2,000,000 horse power.

Eleven electric power manufacturing companies, including the Keystone Power Corporation, linked themselves together on March 20th in a co-operative distribution system to be known as the "Coal field Super-power Group." This group represented $315,000,000 of invested capital, and will serve five east-central states.

The group controls approximately forty stations developing 2,000,000 horsepower which tap the principal cities and towns of Ohio, Pennsylvania, Virginia, West Virginia, and Maryland, serving a population of 7,250,000.

The companies entering into this comprehensive agreement for interconnection are the Duquesne Light Company, Penn Public Service Corporation, Potomac Edison Company, American Gas & Electric Company, which control several operating companies in the region served; Cleveland Electric Illuminating Company, Northern Ohio Traction and Light Company, Penn Central Power & Light Company, Pennsylvania Power Corporation, and Appalachian Power Company. Among the cities and towns served are Cleveland, Akron, Canton, and Youngstown, Ohio; Erie, Pittsburgh, Johnstown, Connellsville, Altoona, Lock Haven, Washington, Greensburg, Monessen, Uniontown, Butler, Kittanning, Ridgway, Kane, Phillipsburg, Warren, Johnsonburg, and St. Marys, Pa.; Charlestown, Wheeling, Fairmont, Clarksburg, Parkersburg, West Virginia; Cumberland, Hagerstown, and Frederick, Maryland, and Winchester, Virginia.

Among the large steam plants linked together are Springdale, Ridgway, Collins, Connellsville, Seward, Saxton, and Bronots Island in Pennsylvania; Windsor and Riverville in West Virginia; Williamsport in Maryland and Philo in Ohio.

In addition there is considerable water power within the territory.

A great deal of work has been done on a 40,000 h.p. hydro-electric plant on the Cheat River, at the Pennsylvania-West Virginia line, and future developments may cause the production of about 500,000 h.p. on this river. There is also potential water power in the area of 150,000 h.p. from the Youghiogheny River and 400,000 h.p. from the Clarion River, on both of which development work has begun.

This vast interconnection plan will tie the Keystone Power lines in with a great network of transmissions system of the companies mentioned in the paragraph above.

Sentence Suspended On Wagner

At a session of court held Friday Frank Wagner of Bradford, plead guilty to unlawful transporting and possessing intoxicating liquor.

When arrested Wagner was found to have three bottles of moonshine whiskey. The court questioned him as to where he had obtained it and he replied from an Italian on Barbour street; said he knew him but could not give his name. County Detective Allison was in court and informed the court that the liquor was purchased from Dominic Madura, who is now held under $2,000 bail for his appearance at the June term on a similar charge.

Wagner further told that he had got two half pint bottles from the Italian but could not remember where he had received the third and that he was pretty drunk when he got the last bottle. Attorney C. W. Morrison appeared for Wagner and told the court Wagner had worked for him on the ice pond of the City Ice Co., and was a good workman and was going to another job the day he was arrested. Wagner is a working man with a wife and five small children, one a nursing baby. Investigation showed the defendant was not a bootlegger and bore a good reputation.

As he had been in the county jail since March 11 and his family is in urgent need of his support, the court decided to suspend sentence until the June term, letting Wagner go on his own recognizance.

On petition to reopen the equity case of Margaret E. Monroe vs. Nathan Nichols, J. B. Fredericks, C. S. Potter, Olin A. Devore and E. M. McClean and in which the plaintiff seeks to recover possession of a royalty interest in a lease in Foster township, the court permitted the plaintiff to call Rhoda E. Maloney, daughter of Mrs. Margaret E. Monroe, who testified she was present when the deed was made from Margaret E. Monroe to John F. Stroud and that all Strdud purchased at that time was the surface rights in this lease and that she heard her mother tell Stroud that she would sell the surface right for $600 but that the sale would not include the oil or gas rights which she expressly reserved. Witness further testified she had often sold the royalty oil for her mother and that the same was in her possession until May 10, 1921.

At the conclusion of plaintiffs testimony, defendants attorney stated that there might be a matter which they may desire to take up and that they would be ready to offer testimony in 30 days.

Parent-Teachers Meeting

The parent-teacher's Association held its fifth and last meeting of this term on Tuesday evening at the H. S. building.

The meeting opened with a selection by the H. S. Orchestra "Reciprocity March." Then followed an excellent talk on the Boy Scout work by Mr. Taylor of Bradford. He began his talk by saying that the motive of Scout work was in a measure parallel with that of school work in that it looked toward [illegible]. Through training this work brings out in boys [illegible] and makes for [illegible]. Mr. Taylor outlined the Scout Law and [illegible] the training program for [illegible] of scout work.

The Boy Scouts [illegible] are with each other for the [illegible] their respective group. [illegible] her at Jackson Park, [illegible] Corporation Court of Honor.

Mr. Taylor spoke of the present scout movement which is on in McKean County, is divided [illegible] that every section of the county is being looked after by a Scout Commissioner. He quoted Lord Baden Powell as saying that he wished every [illegible] of our country would be under a scout councils. He spoke too of the manner in which New York and other large cities are placing confidence in Boy Scout work as the training for future citizens in that they have placed the government of the city under Scout rule for an hour at a time. Scout executive Ray Orr stated that he had had applications for 16 new troops in McKean County but the biggest problem right now was to find good leaders for such troops. For before they can be organized they must have a good trustworthy, loyal citizen and one who is morally fit to train boys as a leader. In this he asked the cooperation of the parents.

The H. S. orchestra then rendered another selection "Overture Patriotic". After this there followed a short business meeting. The need of a treasure for the organization having arisen it was moved and seconded that Miss Leonore Lemmler be elected to this office.

It was decided at the last meeting that should there be a balance in the fund derived from the operetta "Golden Apple" after buying flags for the various rooms that some magazines and other literature be bought for the various rooms. Prof. Bright was appointed to look after this matter. It was moved and seconded that a drum be bought for the High School orchestra from this fund, as well as sand tables for Grades 1 and 2. After setting the date of the next meeting as the last Tuesday in September the business part of the meeting was closed.

Miss Martha Colegrove, Captain of the local troop of Girl Scouts then gave a very interesting talk on Girl Scout work. She told how the Girl Scouts had originated in England as Girl Guides at the time of the origin of Boy Scouts and how the movement began in our country in 1912 at Savannah, Georgia, through Mrs. Julia Lowe. She told too what rapid strides the movement had since taken throughout the country, until we have an organization equal in strength to that of the Boy Scouts. The Girl Scout work was continued by Miss Colegrove. She showed how it compared with that of the Boy Scouts in that it trained our girls in character building and citizenship. In many of the Girl and Boy Scout work are similar. She spoke of the different phases of Girl Scout work in our own local troop of how it has so rapidly grown in membership. She concluded with both parents and teachers a cordial welcome to any of the local Girl Scout meetings.

After this followed a discussion on Boy and Girl Scout work and then the meeting was adjourned.

TELEPHONE RATES NO HIGHER IN SMETHPORT

Harrisburg, Pa., March 31—A new schedule of telephone rates affecting certain classes of local service in approximately one hundred exchanges in Pennsylvania and making several changes in long distance rates, was filed with the Public Service Commission here today by The Bell Telephone to become effective May 1.

No change will be made in the local telephone rates for Smethport Pa. under the new schedule.

Business rates in general in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh will be increased by the new schedule, as will some residence party-line rates in Philadelphia.

The new rates provide a charge of $4.00 for a new installation of a business telephone instead of $3.50, as at present. The rate for a new installation of a residence telephone will no be change, nor will that for "left in" stations, where a telephone left by one subscriber is taken over by another moving in.

The rates for private branchexchange equipment, private lines etc are affected by the new schedule. It also provides that only one directory listing per subscriber shall be free and that additional listing shall be charged for at the rate of 25c per month.

Where the telephone service has been denied for non-payment of bills, there will be a restoral of service charge of $1.00 under the new schedule, a measure which telephone officials believe will decrease the cost of collections.

A change is also made in the rate schedule for long distance messages that will add five cents to station to station day calls over distances of approximately 30 to 104 miles inclusive. At present the rate is five cents for the first six miles and five cens more for each additional six miles thereafter up to 24 miles. From that on the rate increases five cents for each additional eight miles. But under the new schedule the rate will be five cents for each six miles up to forty-eight miles, and thereafter in eight mile steps as at present. Calls to points more than 104 miles distant, however, will not be changed from present schedule.

Person -to -person rates, under the new schedule, where the distance is more than 30 miles and not more than 112 miles will be increased by amounts ranging from 5 cents to 15 cents.

Enclosed with his April 1 bill each Bell subscriber in Pennsylvania will get a notice stating to what extent the new rate will affect his service. In addition the complete schedules filed with the Public Service Commision will be on file in all of the business offices of the telephone company.

Coincedent with the filing of the new rates the telephone company issued the following statement:

"The present rates have been in effect since 1920. At that time the average investment per telephone in the state was about $137. During the past four years nearly 250,000 telephones have been added to the System and because these new telephones were installed at the price levels following the war the average investment per telephone has increased $40. The average investment in 1923 was $177 per telephone, and by 1925 the average will be $225 per telephone.

"During 1924 the telephone company will connect some 168,000 telephones and the net increase will be about half that number.

"During this coming five years about 925,000 telephones will be connected in Pennsylvania which is 700,000 more telephones than there are in service today. This is the gross figure and the net increases will be half that many.

"The situation with the telephone company is one of adding tremendous amount of new equipment, cables, wires, switchboards central office equipment and buildings at the present cost levels, thereby tremendously increasing the investment per telephone.

"Every possible economy has been introduced into the business. The development of large size cables, hole digging and pole setting machines, the introduction of new methods and practically all contributed to keeping the costs of telephone service down. But these economies have not been sufficient to meet the constant increasing investment per telephone. During the present year we are adding $40,000,000 worth of new equipment to the System in Pennsylvania. During the next five years we will add about $175,000,000 worth of equipment. All of this money must be raised in the form of new investment in the business.

"The present problem of the telephone company is largely one of credit. A telephone company which is not financially strong and able to attract the new money necessary for th business at favorable interest and divident rates is not an asset to the state. This company has been in a strong financial position. The purpose of asking for a slight icrease in revenue at the present time is to keep the company in a position where it will be able to attract the new capital which will be required to give the people of Pennsylvania the quantity of and quality of telephone service they require."

MRS. CARRIE CLARK,

Why?

Why are we asking for higher rates at a time when everyone is hoping and looking for lower prices generally?

When we adopted our present rates we had some 600,000 telephones in Pennsylvania. Most of the plant for their operation was installed at prices averaging those of 1912 and 1913 for labor and materials, and these rates were calculated to allow a fair return on that investment.

Since May, 1920, we have put in half a million telephones (for a net gain of 200,000), and all of them, including the additional new plant required for their operation, at the new cost levels.

Telephone plant wears out. All replacements, too, have been made at these higher prices.

In the next five years we must put in 925,000 new telephones, gross, to meet the demands of the people of Pennsylvania for service.

Here is the point!

Telephone rates made in 1920, when the investment was $137 per telephone in service, do not provide an adequate return today, when the investment is $177 per telephone in service, and constantly increasing.

A reasonable increase in telephone rates is necessary in order to attract the tremendous amounts of new capital now required, not only to meet the demands for expansion, but also to keep up the existing service.

Cleaned the Knives.

"Mary," said the mistress, "just go and see if the pudding is cooked. Stick a knife in it and see if it comes out clean."

A few minutes later Mary returned.

"It comes out wonderful, mum," she said, "so I've stuck all the other knives in it."

BRADFORD GIRL IS ENTERED IN BEAUTY CONTEST.

An interesting feature in a recent issue of the Pittsburgh Gazette Times was a page of pictures of 40 Carnegie Tech Co-eds, three nationally known artists will endeavor to select the six most beautiful girls of the school one of whom will be acclaimed "Miss Tech." The 40 photographs in the Gazette Times which includes that of Miss Betsy Linsey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Lindsley of Chautauqua place, Bradford were selected from hundreds of others that were entered in the beauty contest. Three nationally known artists, Coles Phillips, Charles Dana Gibson and Tony Sarg are the jury of beauty judges. The winners o fthe contest will be announced April 8th.—Bradford Star March 27.

AERIAL STUNT MADE CROWD BREATHLESS.

Standing on the outside of the window sills on the fifth floor of the New Thompson hotel, late yesterday afternoon, a woman was observed by pedestrians on the pavement 70 feet below as she nonchalantly went about the work of washing the windows.

She pulled one down from the top and it stuck in the sash and to force it free she actually swung off her feet at that dizzy height, while the constantly increasing crowd on the street gasped with consternation. She held her anxious audience until she was called away from the work.

Apparently unaware of the excitement she was creating she went about her work with the skill and poise of one upon the ground, until John Fleming, proprietor of the hotel, learned what was going on and put a stop to it. He had no idea that the woman, Bertha Wolf, who is regularly employed as a cook, was engaged in this hazardous occupation.

The intrepid window-washer could not understand why people should make such a fuss over a woman doing house-cleaning work and rather resented the attention that was paid to her breath-taking stunt high in the air.—Kane March 26.

MAN WAS CARELESS IN RUNNING INTO EXPLOSIVES.

Bradford, March 28.—J. V. Morey who lives on the Moore farm on the Sawyer road, was arrested yesterday by Chief of Police Travis, charged with violating a city ordinance on the morning of March 18. Mr. Morey it is alleged drove his car in a reckless manner around a nitro glycerine wagon, bearing 500 quarts of the explosive and breaking against it, on East Main street. At the time Officer Groves was riding on the glycerine wagon with its driver, and took the number of the car, which was 600-569. He reported to the police headquarters that the machine was a Chevrolet.

FOR PITY'S SAKE.

Olean, N. Y., March 26.—The city administration has taken official cognizance of the case of Paula Patton, 16 year old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patton, of this city, the girl whom Immigration authorities have ordered deported to Russia because of alleged mental deficiency at the time of her entry into this country in 1914.

The Common Council last night placed on record an emphatic protest against the girl's deportation and vigorously urged that immediate steps be taken toward the repeal of the law permitting "such an in human and unAmerican situation to be possible."

Copies of the adopted resolution were ordered dispatched to representatives in Congress and the State Legislature.

CORONER HEFFNER HOLDS INQUEST

Coroner H. C. Heffner of this city held an inquest last evening at Port Allegany to inquire into the circumstances surrounding the death of Mrs. Burton Guncheon and infant daughter Patricia, who with Mr. Guncheon were struck by a Pennsylvania train Thursday evening at the Mill street crossing in Port Allegany. Mrs. Guncheon was instantly killed and her daughter died a few minutes later at the Pt. Allegany hospital. Mr. Guncheon suffered internal injuries but he may get well, it is understood.

The three were in a Ford sedan driven by Mr. Guncheon when the fatality ocurred. The coroner's jury returned a verdict of accidental death and recommended that a safety device be placed at the Mill street crossing to prevent accidents in the future.

Coroner Heffner had the train crew at the inquest and they testified that the train was moving about 15 miles an hour, also that the whistle was blown and the bell sounded as the train approached the crossing.—Era, Apr. 3.

FINDS MAN DEAD IN KANE HOTEL; NAME NOT KNOWN.

Coroner Heffner will go to Kane today to investigate the circumstances of an unknown man's death in a room at the St. Elmo hotel in that borough.

Some days ago the victim of the fatality engaged a room in the hotel and as he had not thereafter been seen about the place the apartment was entered yesterday by the hotel people. The body was found in the room.

It is believed that the man lost his life through asphyxiation due to monoxide gas, a gas stove in the room having thrown off the fumes of burnt gas.

A mail from Erie may have been the victim, but last evening there was some doubt as to this. The features were swollen and it was difficult to fix the unfortunate's identity, so the coroner's informant stated. If the victim was the Erie resident, it was said, his name was McArthur. But this possibility was unverified.

The body was turned over to Undertaker Brown in Kane.—Bradford Herald, March 30.

Logue is authority on the trapping of wild animals and gave our fellows some good advice along that line. Street Paving Would Circle the Globe Twice

If the modern-paved streets of 200 leading American cities were merged into a single great highway 18 feet wide that highway would more than twice encircle the globe, according to the first national survey, the results of which have just been announced.

The survey shows that with an average of 18 feet of width there are 56,974.8 miles of paved streets in American cities of 10,000 or more population. This mileage by far exceeds that of every other country in the world.

These 200 cities, which include all but three of the cities of 10,000 or more population and which comprise 65.6 per cent of the 53,898,385 urban population of the United States, report a total of 601,653,547 square yards of pavement. Of this 403,463,141 square yards, or 78 per cent, are of the types higher than waterbound macadam. These higher types in turn comprise percentages of the total types higher than waterbound macadam as follows: Asphaltic types, 58.9 per cent; brick, 21.9 per cent; stone block, 11.6 per cent; wood block, 8.8 per cent; portland cement concrete, 5.5 per cent; tar macadam, 2.5 per cent; miscellaneous, 1.3 per cent.

Tragedy in Lumber Town

There is no more pathetic story in the history of northern Michigan than that of the deserted village of Jennings, 12 miles northeast of Cadillac, in Missaukee county, says a Cadillac correspondent.

Jennings was founded some 35 or 40 years ago by Mitchell Bros.' company, a sawmill, flooring and chemical plant established there, also a large general store. Hundreds of persons came direct from Sweden to the village, where they were employed in the mills of the company. But when the last giant maple was cut and the hills and valleys in the vicinity were bare of raw material for the saws and planers the company tore down the big mills and moved the machinery to Cadillac, where larger and more modern factories were erected. The 100 or more residences owned by the company were moved intact to Cadillac, also most of the privately owned houses. Today there are only a handful of former inhabitants left in the once prosperous and happy village. The chief occupation is yarning of the early days.

These old men and women will tell the inquiring stranger that "Jennings was the best town in the world," excepting possibly in some cases the old home town in Sweden. Sons and daughters would gladly bring them to Cadillac or to other cities to which they moved in the march of progress, but Jennings is their world, they prefer to live and die there.—Beloit News.

Strip Protects Grass

To accommodate persons waiting for cars and to preserve the small lawn between the sidewalk and the street, a Buffalo (N. Y.) contractor put a strip of concrete fifteen inches wide inside the curb. The platform became popular and served to attract attention to the house, a two-family affair so constructed that the front entrance to the lower flat was from the main street and that to the upper apartment from a side thoroughfare. —Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Alaska Fur Shipments Show Increase in 1923

Furs valued at $1,784,159 were shipped out of Alaska during the year 1923, according to a report received by the Department of Agriculture. The total number of furs shipped from Alaska during 1923 was 307,287. While this number exceeds that of the previous year by 2,030, the value is $5,127 less because of the lower prices paid for some kinds of furs.

As usual, the muskrat exceeded all others, both in numbers and in total value of skins, 219,611 of these having a value of $367,552, being the year's export. Next in order came the white fox, numbering 7,930, with a value of $207,470; the beaver, with 14,341 skins, worth $268,138; and the red fox with 10,787 skins, valued at $215,740.

The most notable decrease as compared with 1922 is the mink, 31,983 of those skins being shipped that year and 20,033 in 1923. The most notable increase is the red fox, 5,070 skins being exported in 1922 and 10,787 in 1923.

HIGH SCHOOL JOTTINGS

Fellow students, classmates this gloomy column appears in this new sy sheet. We don't know how often it will appear but we will try to have it regulary. We also wish to mention that this is written by a new editor so please excuse the mistakes.

The Shricks played Burbanks last Sat. Nite and beat them. We think Burbanks would have almost beat the Shricks if they had any place to practice.

Say Mary McVay what was that rumor that something or somebody was missing last Friday Nite.

All reports seem to indicate that those Crosby Jazz hound, and Bens Store cowboys had a hard time keeping time last Friday Nite.

Here is a clever bit of poetry pertaining to school affairs:

A Freshman's head is full of air,
Or air so hot and breezy;
A Sophomores head is full of
Naught but takes life easy;
A Juniors head is full of love,
The love you get at college;
A Senior's head is full of brains
A greater amount of knowledge.

There's a big game next Saturday nite. We hope the Shricks make good in their efforts against the B. H. S. Freshmen. Another good one that nite is the game between the M. A. C. and the Silk Mill Res.

Keep up your faith and Spring will soon be here.

It seems funny but only a few days ago there was a full roster of loafers at Quirk's Garage every nite but now seeming from some unknown poison the ranks have decreased amazingly.

Maybe it will be pleasing to note to a few that the B. H. S. Freshman team will play here next Sat. Nite & Here are some clever poems submitted to me by amature poets

The sales of ice were falling fast.

He stepped on the gas, and hurried past.

A scream in the darkness the man was dead.

What did they find when they opened his head.

EXCELSIOR!

Oh, little stranger in the cradle,
Your funny face I'm much afraid'll

Provokes remarks from friends and others.

Your looks are mine and not your mothers,
I'll grant that, But your presence whacks.

Four hundred will my income tax.

Although in these times of Prohibition

The sailor still will have his Port
The cotton manufacturer his gin,
Every sea can't have it's bar
And each of will have our bier
No matter where we are.

Building Your Home Starts Thrift Habit

Home building is an ideal plan for saving and earning money. Financial obligations, like insurance premiums and home building payment, must be met, and consequently a determined effort will be made to meet them once they are incurred.

Plainly speaking, home building is a business. It is a business of saving and investing money for safe, sure returns. It does not involve risks if you go at it in a businesslike way. And home building will net you a profit just as any other business should, depending upon the good judgment and sound management you use in conducting your home building operation.

Once you satisfy yourself that home building and owning is the logical and economical thing to do, you should not hesitate to take the step because of the financial obligations home building requires.

It is wrong to believe that home financing is a yoke of everlasting indebtedness. It is really the beginning of a savings and thrift campaign. Home building has started thousands of people with limited incomes on the road to independence—people who under ordinary circumstances might never have built a bank account or accumulated enough savings to make any substantial investment.

Aside from the real joy and satisfaction that come from building and owning a home of your own, there is the added profit which comes through acquiring the thrift habit—a money-saving habit to meet home financing payments.

Few people are infallible when it comes to habits. Suppose you start a bank account with no stated obligation to meet; you grow careless and use your money for other and immediate purposes. On the other hand, payments on a home must be met at a stipulated time, and the home owner takes every means to meet them.

Points Out Efficiency of City Manager Plan

When politics becomes oppressive, institute city manager government.

That is the suggestion put forth in Kansas City by W. S. Ferguson, director of public service for Cleveland, now under the city manager form of government. Mr. Ferguson is on a short vacation.

Civic affairs have been freed of political cliques and men who have been successful in business are at the helm, Mr. Ferguson declared.

The nucleus of the government is W. R. Hopkins, city manager, and five department directors besides Mr. Ferguson.

Mr. Ferguson, who is an architect and engineer, never has been in politics, and Mr. Hopkins forgot big commercial ventures when the council selected him for the city's head.

The council also elected a mayor. He receives $2,500 a year, the manager $25,000 and the department heads $7,500. Cleveland is the largest city with city manager government, Mr. Ferguson said.

"Mr. Hopkins and his directors have obtained the co-operation of the council of twenty-six elected members and of the people because we are not interested in politics," Mr. Ferguson said. "City officials are giving Cleveland more service because they choose workers according to ability rather than political qualifications. Of course, you can't cut out politics entirely in a city where it has reigned for years."

Mr. Ferguson told of Cleveland's garbage reduction plant, where 350 tons were being handled a day at no loss. The process is one of reduction to grease, fertilizer and gasoline, which are sold. Plans have been completed for a new $1,000,000 plant, which will be erected within a year and is expected to produce revenue.

"The best plan of garbage disposal," Mr. Ferguson said, "is for the city to dispose of its own garbage in a plant properly equipped and managed. Proper management is the first essential and that is what appeals to Cleveland."—Kansas City Star.

Failure to Vote Harmful

One of the recognized difficulties in this country is to get all the "good" citizens to go to the polls. It has been established that very large numbers of potential voters fail in each election to go to the polls.

Doctor Wigmore, in his address before the American National council in New York, made the following significant statement in this connection: "I doubt if a weak or undesirable public official has ever been elected by a larger majority, than the number of good citizens who failed to vote in the election. I agree with the statement I heard a public speaker make the other day, when he said that he had ten times as much respect for the man who voted ten times as he did for the man who did not vote at all."

Instances were cited by Doctor Minor, where grafting politicians were able to continue in power because only 37 per cent of the voters turned out to take part in an election. These same grafting politicians were cast out, he said, when only 85 per cent of the voters went to the polls after conditions had become such that they were goaded into fulfilling their duty as citizens.

Fan Helps Burn Coal

Fuel experts for several years past have been preaching the use of smaller sizes of anthracite coal, such as pea and buckwheat, for household use. They state that these sizes of coal have nearly the same amount of heat producing units per ton as the larger sizes and point out that they are materially lower in price. Some people find that the smaller coal burns unsatisfactorily in their furnaces except on occasional heavy damp days. Then a furnace stoked with small-sized coal simply will not burn brightly enough to produce the desired heat. On such days an electric fan will come to the rescue. Open the ash-pit door, set the electric fan directly in front of it. Then connect it to one of the convenience outlets in the cellar and turn on the fan. With the added draft provided by the fan the small-sized coal will burn just as if the weather conditions were normal.

Town Has Only One Pupil

Sharon, N. H., supports a school for only one pupil. It has, in fact, only one child of school age. The place's state school tax consequently is only $2 a year. The community was a thriving settlement fifty years ago with 50 population, but today only twenty live within the limits of the town, which is steadily vanishing.

First Rubber Pavement

What is believed to be the first rubber pavement in the United States has been laid on a railroad crossing in Racine, Wis. The section of rubber paving will have a severe trial as this crossing is used by thousands of automobiles and heavy motor trucks each day. A similar pavement in Princess street, Edinburgh, has been used for more than twenty years, yet it has lost only a fraction of an inch in thickness during this period.
